Cleveland Declines a Present.

BINGHAMPTON (N. Y.) Dec. 23.—O. J. Coughlin, a prominent local Democratic politician, recently conceived the original idea of sending the President-elect a gold hooped, five-gallon cask of rum, having a gold faucet, and bearing the following inscription in ornamental letters upon its head: "Coughlin's R. R. R. It did it. Copyrighted & Distillation of '60." The elegant cask was shipped to the Governor inclosed in a walnut case which was elegantly lined with plush. Mr. Coughlin sent at the same time the following letter:

HONORED SIR: I learn through the press that you deem it advisable to decline accepting any presents that may be offered under the incentive of political enthusiasm, and as the spirit of such donations is liable to be rendered conspicuous chiefly by its "suggestiveness," the wisdom of your course cannot be too highly commended. I trust that you may be prevailed upon to accept the accompanying package, not as a present, but as a memento of the part that it is believed to have been unconsciously played in the grand political drama upon which the curtain has but recently descended, as the humblest component of that alliterative triplet, to which your political opponents accord the credit of that avalanche of disaster and defeat that has lately overwhelmed them, and I venture to hope that it may be deemed not unworthy as a souvenir. As such I offer it; and as its perishable contents evaporate under the warming sunshine of social smiles its donor will feel that he is the party most highly honored in the transaction. Your obedient servant in most profound political affiliations,

O. J. COUGHLIN.
To His Excellency Grover Cleveland,
Executive Mansion, Albany, N. Y.

The cask was returned by Governor Cleveland, with the following letter, stating his reasons:

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
ALBANY (N. Y.) Dec. 16.
O. J. COUGHLIN, Esq.—DEAR SIR: Your letter of the 5th instant and the liquor therein referred to have been received. My objection to the receipt of presents does not rest entirely upon their "suggestiveness," as you term it, if you mean by that a suggestion of obligation in official conduct. I am averse to gifts naturally, and because if they are from a stranger I can see no reason why they should be bestowed. I thought I made my desires on this subject very plain in the letter which was recently published, and I must be permitted to have my way in the matter. I thank you none the less for your kindness, while I say I must decline your gift. I will return the same by express to-morrow. Yours, very truly,
GROVER CLEVELAND.

Estimate of Increased Population.

An official report is given that the immigration for eleven months of the current year has been 440,361. On this basis, the New York Tribune thinks a close approximation can be made to the population of the United States at the end of December. On this computation, which has proved accurate in the past, an increase of 2 per cent yearly may be allowed, exclusive of immigration. Calculating in that mode since 1880, the population of the United States was 54,467,595 January 1, 1883, and 56,117,589 January 1, 1884. Add 2 per cent as the increase of the present year, exclusive of immigration, and 440,361, the actual immigration during eleven months, and we have 57,680,302. It is thought the immigration of the present month will bring the population of the country at the close of the year probably up to 57,700,000.

An unusually large amount of assessment work has been performed in the immediate vicinity of Belmont, and the preliminary steps taken in the same ratio, to secure U. S. Patents to mines. This indicates a good degree of the faith and hope of the several owners in their prospects.—Belmont Courier.

THE STATE UNIVERSITY.

[Winn. Silver State.]

A movement has been inaugurated in the western part of the State, having for its object the removal of the State University from Elko to Carson. The Virginia City Enterprise, which, in view of the fact that the Legislature is largely Republican, is supposed to have great influence with the majority, declares that the mistaken policy of locating the University at Elko has been long since demonstrated, and that its province has been narrowed down to the limitations of a district school. "A few boys and girls—mostly girls—it says, "all residing in one town and in a county of very scant population, are the chief beneficiaries of an institution endowed by the General Government, and designed to provide a more liberal education for students from every part of the State."

This would be a strong argument in favor of removing the University, provided it was based upon facts. It is well-known that parents in other parts of Eastern Nevada, outside of Elko, whose resources will not permit of sending their children to educational institutions a long way from home, avail themselves of the privileges afforded by the University for educating them. At the competitive examination held here last Spring for the West Point cadetship a student at the University, whose parents did not reside in Elko, and whose circumstances would not permit of the expense of sending their son hundreds of miles from home to acquire an education, was awarded a certificate over competitors from all parts of the State, some of whom had attended high schools outside the State. This fact disproves the assertion of the Enterprise that a few boys and girls in Elko are the sole beneficiaries of an institution endowed by the General Government, and proves that the branches of learning taught there are not narrowed down to the limitations of the ordinary district school.

Aside from this there are other and cogent reasons why the Legislature should not arbitrarily remove the University from Elko. The people of Elko county subscribed and paid $20,000 for the erection of the University buildings.

They incurred this expense upon the condition expressed in the Act of the Legislature, that the University should be located at Elko. It cost the State nothing, neither does it cost the State anything to maintain it. Under such circumstances, no member of the Legislature can put himself on record in favor of the removal of the University, without, at least, first providing that the people of Elko shall be reimbursed for their outlay. Anything less than that would be worse than communism, and rapacious and unscrupulous as Virginia City and Carson members of the Legislature are reputed to be, we cannot believe that they will support a measure, even though the Enterprise advocates it, that would be so outrageously unjust, as the removal of the State University, without refunding to the people of Elko with interest the $20,000 which they expended on that institu-

SATURDAY.....DECEMBER 27, 1884.

General Sherman and the Pacific Coast.

NEW YORK, December 23d.—General Sherman's speech at the New England dinner last night took his hearers to the Pacific Coast. He said: "In San Francisco, whose streets at this season offend the eye and will wet any pair of boots, you will find a beautiful Spring climate, where every man from his house door may look upon hills covered with flowers, more beautiful than under glass in the city of New York. Going still further South to Los Angeles, you may from your door-yard gather oranges, lemons and pomegranates in their prime. Four great railroads now traverse this country from the Atlantic to the Pacific. There is not a single hill nor valley between here and the Pacific Coast where a man cannot go and settle with as much safety as in the Mohawk Valley. You people here in New York are very apt to look upon the people engaged in rearing cattle as wild marauders, as men who continually resort to the bowie-knife and pistol. Recently, in St. Louis, I sat as presiding officer with a body of men, two or three times as many as are present to-night. Sitting by my side was a Captain in the English navy, who was perfectly awestruck. He looked for bowie-knives and pistols, and could not realize that cowboys constituted the greater part of the audience." Referring to the civil war, he said: "There may be young men here who do not understand it. I wish to impress upon you that the civil war was imposed upon us; that the people of the South did not want the leaders who sat in the halls in Washington. It from the beginning of this world to the present day, there ever was a conspiracy, the conspiracy in the Winter of 1860 and 1861 in Washington was a damnable conspiracy. [Loud applause.] I speak with knowledge, as I was then a citizen of a Southern State."

Forecast of Cleveland's Actions.

The New York World, in a double-leaded editorial forecasting Cleveland's action under the civil service rules, declares—evidently by authority—that while he will drive from office every rascal, drone and mere partisan, whom the pernicious Republican methods have fastened upon the public service, he will make no clean sweep of mere petty subordinates on account of Republicanism, provided they are capable, honest and experienced, and have not been vile partisans.

Superintendent A. N. Towne, of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, has issued an order of which the preamble recites that it is necessary for the safety of the traveling public that train men shall at all times, whether on duty or not, have their heads clear, because they are liable to be called on for duty at any moment. The final clause of the order is that "hereafter train men who are in the habit of visiting places where intoxicating liquors are sold, will not be retained in the service of the company."

It has been ascertained that by an accidental or intentional omission of several words in the bond given the Government for the return of the $1,000,000 loaned to the New Orleans Exposition, the managers of the Exposition only pledged themselves to receive the loan. Nothing is said in the bond which requires them or any one else to return the money.

Cassidy voted against the amendment to the Reagan Bill providing three cents per mile for passenger rates over inter-State roads.

W. A. January has resigned as State Treasurer, of California, and D. J. O'ullahan, of Stockton, has been appointed in his place.

Ingersoll thinks Wm. M. Evarts stands the best chance of being elected Senator from New York.

Cabinet Gossip.

A Washington dispatch says: When President Garfield's Cabinet was announced Roscoe Conkling, then a Senator from New York, observed that the new President had omitted three saddles in the Senate. He referred to the selection of Senator Blaine to be Secretary of State, Senator Windom to be Secretary of the Treasury, and Senator Kirkwood to be Secretary of the Interior. There is every indication that President Cleveland will empty at least two Senatorial saddles, as Senators Bayard and Garland are already considered future members of Cleveland's Cabinet, and either Senator Lamar or Pendleton may be summoned from the legislative to the executive branch of the Government. The most important legislative effect of the appointment of Bayard and Garland to Cabinet positions will be the reorganization of the Senate Judiciary Committee. The Senators from Delaware and Arkansas are both members of the Committee. Great interest is felt as to who their successors will be. In matters affecting Pacific railroad legislation the power and authority of the Judiciary Committee has been supreme, and speculators and investors in land-grant railroad securities will regard the changes in the personnel of the Committee with the liveliest interest.

Generous Contributions.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 24.—J. C. Flood has made generous Christmas gifts as follows: To the Protestant Orphan Asylum, $1,000; Orphan Asylum in charge of Sisters of Charity, $1,000; Pacific Hebrew Orphan Asylum and Home Society, $1,000; Ladies' Protection and Relief Society, $1,000; Orphan Asylum at San Rafael, $1,000; Magdalen Asylum, $500; Boys' and Girls' Aid Society, $250; California State Woman's Hospital, $250. Total, $6,000. Mr. Flood also made each employee of the Nevada Bank a cash gift of a half month's pay.

The following correspondence explains itself:

DEAR MRS. REDDING: I take the liberty of sending to you the inclosed check for five hundred dollars ($500), for the benefit of the California Woman's Hospital on Sacramento street. Yours, with friendly greetings.

Mrs. LELAND STANFORD,
SAN FRANCISCO, December 23, 1884.

DEAR MRS. STANFORD: Please accept my thanks in behalf of the California Woman's Hospital for your kind donation of $500. I hope to have the pleasure of seeing you soon, when I can explain the workings of that institution. Very sincerely yours, with love,

Mrs. B. B. REDDING,
December 23, 1884.

The Bank of California, as a Christmas gift, added 20 per cent. to the present month's salaries of employees.

Gain of Three Governors by the Republicans.

In the late State elections Republican Governors were elected in place of Democrats in Colorado, Kansas and Michigan. Harrison, a Republican, will be elected in Connecticut by the Legislature. There will then be twenty-two Democratic Governors, fifteen Republicans and one Readjuster for Virginia. Another noticeable anomaly is that four States which voted for Blaine have Democratic Governors—California, Nevada, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Tyler's Agreement With Mrs. Sharon.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 24th.—This afternoon George W. Tyler filed in the County Clerk's Office a copy of his agreement with Sarah Althea Sharon, dated October 24th, 1883, in which she agrees to pay him one-half of all the money realized in her suit against Sharon, Tyler to advance all the money necessary for prosecuting the case.

Walnut Lumber in Virginia.

Within four years past, Taxewell, Russell and Washington counties, Virginia, 1,500 men and 3,000 horses have been engaged in the walnut lumber trade, bringing into these counties $1,500,000. One walnut tree has realized $600. Five hundred men are engaged in getting oak staves, which are shipped to Norfolk for Europe and South America. The walnut is being exhausted, but other valuable woods are abundant. A popular tree in White's Valley measures twenty-nine feet in circumference.

STILL WORKING.

[Lyon County Times.]
When the County Convention in Storey county was called last October a resolution was adopted that candidates for the Assembly and Senate should promise to stand in for a measure which would consolidate Storey, Ormsby, Douglas and Lyon counties. Those receiving the nomination all pledged themselves to this act, but shortly before election, probably to catch a few votes, this resolution was rescinded by the County Central Committee of Storey county. The idea was to get their men elected. They had already promised to work for the measure, and it made no difference then whether the resolution was rescinded or not. The Enterprise stated that it was owing to the fact that they had been made aware that Douglas and Lyon counties did not want to consolidate, and that the measure was unfavorably looked upon in Ormsby, that the rescindment was made. The idea probably was to seemingly put an end to the matter. However, it is understood that there is still being an effort made to consolidate. It is a move that is looked upon unfavorably by every person in this county; Douglass does not approve of it; and Ormsby will not stand it unless she thinks there is some show for her to secure the county seat. The most substantial reason for not wishing to consolidate is that there would be an extra taxation put upon the people. When the new county was formed there would be one rate of taxation; and there would still be another rate to pay up the debt each county owed before consolidating. It would be well for the members from the eastern part of the State to understand that the people of the western part do not want any consolidation, for the chances are that a bill to this effect will be presented and a trial made to lobby it through.

Bills Against the State.

The State Board of Examiners desire that all persons who have claims against the State shall put in their bills on or before the 29th day of December (instant). This is advisable for the reason that all appropriations lapse or cease with the close of the present fiscal year, and claims not allowed before that time must await new appropriations by the Legislature before they can be paid. This will probably cause a delay of nearly or quite two months. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Some Facts in Relation to the Duck Valley Agency.

From a private letter from Hon. John S. Mayhugh, in charge of the Duck Valley Indian Reservation, the following facts are obtained relative to affairs at that Agency. Mr. Mayhugh states that during the past season the Indians have raised 2,000 bushels of wheat, 1,000 bushels of barley, 250 bushels of rye, besides a large amount of potatoes, corn, rutabagas, turnips, cabbage, beets, carrots and parsnips; also about 250 tons of hay, part timothy, and built 2 miles of wire fence and repaired all of the old; built an irrigating dam, also a number of cattle and horse corrals, stables and nine root and vegetable cellars, three new log houses, making in all 12 buildings in which Indians reside. A number have cut logs in the mountains preparatory to building next year. All of the above mentioned improvements and farm work having been performed by the Indians themselves without any aid from white folks. The Indians set and run a ten horse thresher themselves, having no mishap or break down during the run of nearly four weeks duration. All this farm work has been under the supervision of two Indian farmers, Captain Charley and Captain Buck. Each of the 51 families on the Reservation have from one to three milk cows. Many of them churn and make nice sweet butter. The grist mill has been grinding flour for the past three months, but expect to get through in a few days. Each family has a separate brand for their cows and ponies. They have among them from 6,000 to 7,000 head of ponies and about 250 head of cattle, besides large number of pigs and chickens. They are well clothed, fed and housed and peaceable and contented. As a band the agent says the Western Shoshones are the most progressive and intelligent Indians he has ever seen in Nevada, or elsewhere, and are exceedingly industrious.

Vick's Floral Guide.

The Guide for 1885 is an elegant book of 150 pages, with a colored plate of flowers, and more than 1,000 illustrations of the choicest flowers, plants and seeds, and directions for growing. The solid merit of this annual has long had a firm place in popular affection. The bright flower frontispiece is certainly worthy a prominent place on the sitting-room table, while the illustrated magazine has long been a faithful guide in all matters relating to the garden. James Vick, Rochester, N. Y., will send the Floral Guide to any address for ten cents, which, if seeds are afterwards purchased, may be deducted from the order.

A Well-Stocked Store.

Martin is daily receiving additions to his extensive stock of groceries, provisions, crockery, glassware, woodenware, tinware, flour, feed, candles, oils, butter, eggs, etc., which he offers for sale at the lowest living rates.

Murdered.

R. H. Scott, of Paradise Valley, was murdered in his store in that place Wednesday night by one Clarence Grey. A reward of $500 is offered for the arrest of Grey.

K. of P. Carnival.

At the Knights of Pythias Carnival on next Thursday evening some pleasing novelties will be introduced and it will be one of the most interesting events of the kind ever held in Reno.

The engineers and firemen are talking of giving a masquerade very soon at Wadsworth in benefit of the new hall. The boys deserve a big time, and every one knows that the railroad boys take the cake for good dances when they start in.
